

Roots & Your Fruits

If the root is corrupt, the work will produce fruit with no value.

You must plant seeds in good soil. What's in your roots will be in your fruits.

What's at the root of your WHY? What's at the root of the products and services you already or are planning to create? What's at the root of the connections you desire to make? What's at the root of the actions you take? What's at the root of your thinking? What's at the root of the content you share?
